JAKARTA TETAP JAKARTA

Even though Jakarta is no longer capital of Indonesia, nothing's going to change.

Collaboration between:

and a little bit of design.

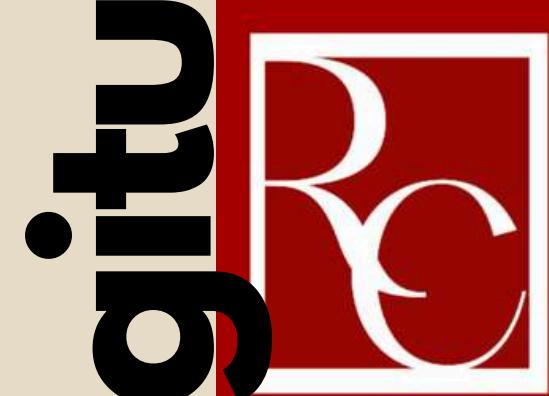

RINTIS stands for “Revolusi Internal Ketimpangan Sosial” is a social media campaign that talks about social inequalities and social issues which happened in the city of Jakarta.

We are very aware that some of the folks in Jakarta still underestimate many people's job/work in various ways. Also they always pretend to do something to feel better about themselves. So we came up with a slogan

“Biar Apa Sih Begitu?”

Hopefully, after seeing some of our content they feel inspired and be a better human being.

The slide features a background illustration of a map of Indonesia with a pink-to-white gradient overlay. At the top left, there's a red square with the white text "kok-bisa?", the Komisi Pemilihan Umum logo, and a yellow "B" logo. On the left side, there's a cartoon illustration of three people at a voting booth, with one person holding a small Indonesian flag and another holding a sign that says "#PEMILU DAMAI". To the right, a man in a suit and hat is looking through a magnifying glass at a speech bubble containing text. The main title "MEMBUAT KEPUTUSAN DALAM PEMILIHAN" is on the left, and the subtitle "NAMUN BAGAIMANA BILA MERASA TIDAK COCOK DENGAN SEMUA CALON KANDIDAT?" is in the center. A call-to-action button at the bottom right says "Next slide untuk cara-caranya". On the right side, there's a vertical list of four steps with icons: 1. Saksikan debat dan lacak rekam jejak (with a speech bubble icon), 2. Cari info valid di berbagai sumber media (with a magnifying glass icon), 3. Komunikasi dengan banyak orang terkait pandangan politik secara terbuka dan kepala dingin, jangan lupa crosscheck validitas argumennya (with a speech bubble icon), and 4. Pertanyakan ide-ide dan kebijakan dari masing-masing calon kandidat (with a speech bubble icon). The slide is attributed to "Reference: KokBisa?" at the top right.
